This is basically an L-shaped frame house with a gabled wing on the front. On the front of this wing is a two story bay window. The front door, flanked by sidelights, has a lunette shaped fanlight above with radials. A one story porch supported by Doric columns extends across the front and part of the north facade. Also on the north is a small gabled wing with a full length bay window. The house has been altered by the addition of asphalt siding.
